The Solution: CS Course Guide Chatbot

Pulls together information from various public/internal sources

Answers questions using natural language

Holds no personal data

Holds no course content

The screenshot shows the University of Oxford Department of Computer Science website. The header includes the university logo, navigation links (Home, Courses A-Z, Exam Docs, More), and a guest access notice. The main content area is titled "General Information for Students" and includes a "General" section with text about departmental teaching and email updates. A "Who's who in the department?" section lists contact information for Academic Administration, MSc Administration, and Disability Contact. A sidebar on the right displays a "Guest Mode" notification in an orange box, stating that the user is viewing Moodle in "guest" mode and should log in for specific permissions. A red circular chatbot icon is visible in the bottom right corner.

General Information for Students

▼ General Collapse all

This page attempts to include everything UG and MSc students might need for departmental teaching in one place. Feedback/errors/omissions should be sent to academic.administrator@cs.ox.ac.uk

Important information about the course will be emailed to you, so please read emails from the department carefully. Please also note if you change your email address please let support@cs.ox.ac.uk and academic.administrator@cs.ox.ac.uk know so that we can update our mailing lists and systems.

If you want a copy of all new memos to be emailed to you, please subscribe

▼ Who's who in the department?

Academic Administration (academic.administrator@cs.ox.ac.uk, Room 114): for questions about the organisation of teaching (lectures, classes, practicals), examinations, and more ... if we can't help, we can point you to someone who can.

MSc Administration (graduate.studies@cs.ox.ac.uk, Room 112): for MSc students to discuss issues with their course.

Disability Contact. Rachel Breward (rachel.breward@cs.ox.ac.uk, Room 114): can be

Guest Mode

Important information

You are viewing Moodle in "guest" mode for anonymous browsing. Please log in to use permissions specific to your account.

Main benefit: Removes unnecessary stress, allowing focus on learning instead

How can I get a first with as little revision as possible?

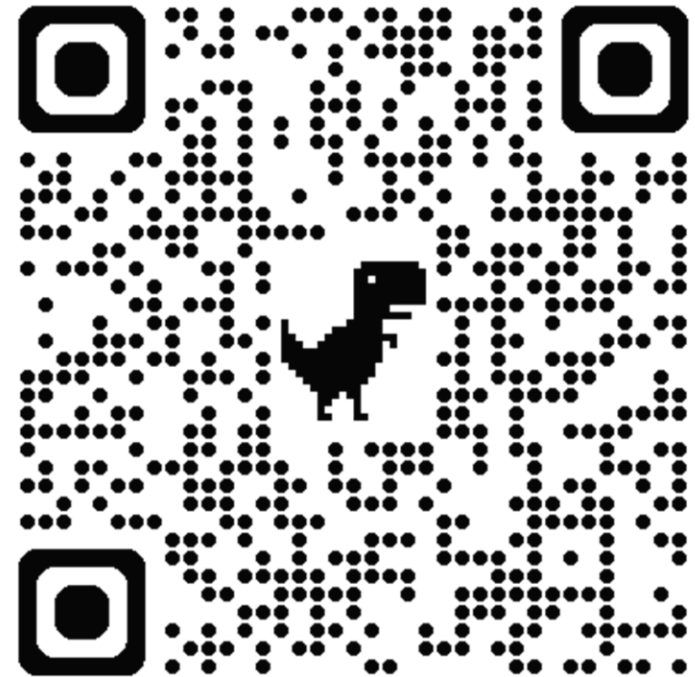

Try it yourself

For a limited time, it will be on the guest-accessible page on Moodle, "General Student Information"

Feedback is welcome – please email Jennifer.Watson@cs.ox.ac.uk if you spot a mistake.

Thank you!
